About this Guide

This guide contains example Midjourney results generated by using different style phrases in /imagine prompts. Each style phrase was paired with six different subjects to show how the results differ across diverse subjects. The seed number 1111 was used in each prompt to allow for a degree of reproducibility and remove an element of randomness from the image generating process. You can read more about the seed number parameter here.

IMPORTANT NOTES

Style phrases interact with the other words you use in your prompt. If you are not getting results in the style you want when you use a specific style phrase, start experimenting. You may need to reword your prompt. Midjourney v6 prefers the use of grammar and proper sentence structure. The prompt format [\[subject\], \[style\]](#) used in this guide may not always work for your prompting needs.

Other parameters, such as --stylize, will affect how Midjourney's style aesthetic interacts with your prompt. Higher stylize values = heavier influence from Midjourney's style aesthetic.

I also recommend checking out my deep dive video on Midjourney's Style Reference feature (--sref). This is a very powerful feature that can come in handy for more difficult styles.

THANK YOU!

Thank you for downloading this guide!

I hope this guide gives you some new ideas to try out whether you are using Midjourney or any other text-to-image tool.

Examples of different subjects used with the style phrase

ALL images on each sheet were generated with the prompt format shown, where [subject] is replaced with the subjects shown in the results.

Example Prompt:
ghost drinking coffee, 35mm color film
--ar 2:3 --seed 1111

What is --seed?

--seed is a parameter that allows you to set a seed number for your prompt. It tells Midjourney what “visual noise” to start with when generating your results. I use it in this guide to allow for reproducibility of my examples. You do not necessarily need to use it in your own prompts.
